Francois Morellet: No End Neon

Kayne Griffin Corcoran is pleased to present our first solo exhibition of work by seminal French abstractionist François Morellet. The exhibition will include paintings, adhesive wall works and a selection of the artist's celebrated neon works.

François Morellet's work can be found in the collections of the Tate Gallery in London, the Stedelijk Museum in Amsterdam, the Nationalgalerie in Berlin, the Los Angeles County Museum of Art, the Musée du Louvre in Paris, where Morellet is one of three contemporary artists to contribute a permanent work to the museum, and the Museum of Modern Art in New York, which recently acquired his renowned painting

Random distribution of 40,000 squares according to the odd and even numbers of a telephone directory. He has been the subject of career retrospectives at the Centre Pompidou in Paris and the Brooklyn Museum in New York, and has exhibited at such institutions as the New Museum and the Museum of Modern Art in New York, and the Grand Palais and the Musée d'Orsay in Paris.

The opening reception will take place Thursday, September 19, 7:00pm - 9:00pm.
